STUDENT COOPERATIVE PROGRAM

The United States Postal Service Office of Inspector General (OIG) is seeking students enrolled in a college/university to fill positions within the OIG functional area of Investigations. The candidates will provide a wide range of technical and administrative support to the Investigations program. This includes gathering data and conducting limited inquiries regarding individual case assignments and assisting in case development; including; surveillance, forensic analysis, researching, assembling, compiling, and tabulating information for agent's use in developing search and arrest warrants, and further assisting agents in evaluating evidence for administrative, civil and criminal hearing or trails. This program provides an opportunity for students to gain valuable and relevant paid work experience related to their field of study, while continuing their education, and providing a benefit to the OIG. The Student Cooperative Program is available year-round (January – December) for continuous employment while in school. Students must be available and committed to work a minimum of 10 continuous weeks or one academic semester on a part-time basis. The OIG mission is to provide reports to the Postal Service Executives, Governors and Congress to help the Postal Service maximize revenues (approximately $70 billion a year), minimize costs, and prevent and detect fraud, waste, abuse and mismanagement.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

- Students must be enrolled full or part-time in an accredited college or university, classified or academically ranked by semester hours as a Sophomore, Junior, Senior or a Graduate student.
- A letter from the college or university advisor verifying enrollment stating the student's good standing, college transcripts, current level of education, and the number of completed semester hours must be submitted with the application.

EVALUATION FACTORS
